Cache County Partners with Bridgerland Technical College on Entrepreneurship Center

LOGAN, UT - Bridgerland Technical College partnered with Cache County and the Cache Valley Chamber of Commerce today to host a ribbon cutting for their Entrepreneurship & Innovation Center. The Center provides flexible workspace, access to industrial and commercial equipment, and business coaching for students exploring whether to take their business ideas to the next level.

"This is a wonderful example of how our community works together to create opportunities and share success," said Cache County Executive David Zook. "By partnering with Bridgerland Technical College, we are able to more effectively use limited State and local financial resources to improve our citizens' lives and career options."

Cache County contributed $45,000 in funding towards the Entrepreneur & Innovation Center's addition from its Rural County Grant award, which is provided through the Governor's Office of Economic Opportunity. Fiscal year 2022's Rural County Grant application used funding to contribute to the Center's increase of space and hardware, allowing students greater access to bring their business concepts to life.
