GAS PRICE TASK FORCE MEETS TO ADDRESS CACHE VALLEY PRICE DIFFERENCE

LOGAN, UTAH - Cache County Executive David Zook today met with members of the Gas Price Task Force. Zook organized the committee to investigate why area gas prices are consistently higher than those in neighboring counties. The diverse committee has spent the past several weeks researching the issue.

“Our residents are dealing with unprecedented inflation and the last thing they need is higher gas prices,” said County Executive David Zook. “I’m asking this Task Force to investigate why Cache Valley residents are forced to pay more for gas than people just over the mountain in Brigham City.”

The Gas Price Task Force will release their final report in November. Members of the task force include an economist, gas station owner/operator, economic developer, auditor, and other citizens.
